

Journal Entry #3, January 12, 2012

What if you were secretly able to write letters to Anne while she was in the Annexe? What advice would you give her? What news would you share with her from the outside world?